

BURMA FREEDOM MARCH

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 24, 4:00 – 8:00 PM
UNITED NATIONS DAY, SAN FRANCISCO

4:00 – 5:00 Rally & meditation at Chinese Consulate, 1450 Laguna (@ Geary), San Francisco
5:00 – 5:40 Peace March to United Nations Plaza, Market St (between 7th & 8th)
6:00 - 8:00 Multi-faith Prayer Service at United Nations Plaza

Led by Buddhist monks, hundreds of thousands of peaceful people are taking to the streets to cry out for an end to the long-standing military dictatorship in Burma. However, holding Buddhist sashana flags and reciting prayers of love on the street is now a crime punishable by beating and death. Many monks have been disrobed, beaten, humiliated, tortured, and killed, and there are reports of a massacre in the jungle. The military junta is raiding monasteries and private homes in the middle of the night and dragging away those they suspect of involvement. Over 2,000 protesters have been arrested and the Burmese population is living in fear.

The people of Burma need your help. Despite this brutal military crackdown, the brave protests continue, but both protestors and innocent onlookers are being beaten, arrested, imprisoned, tortured and killed. Please walk with us on United Nations Day to appeal to the UN to take swift and effective measures to stop the killing and establish democracy and rule of law. Let's give democracy in Burma a voice by recreating the peaceful protest they intended.

WHERE ARE THE MONKS?

END KILLINGS, END DICTATORSHIP
